

PRESS RELEASE
June 3, 2009

CHARTWELL LAW OPENS DELAWARE OFFICE

June 3, 2009, Valley Forge PA: The Chartwell Law Offices, LLP, one of the fastest growing law firms in Pennsylvania, announced today the opening of its Delaware office.

Chartwell opened its first Pennsylvania office in Valley Forge in 2002 with four lawyers. It now has offices in Valley Forge, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Scranton, Pittsburgh and Wilmington and has 49 lawyers.

Seth Reidenberg, formerly of Young Conaway Stargatt & Taylor in Wilmington, Delaware will serve as the Managing Partner of the Wilmington office, located at 300 Delaware Avenue. Seth represents national, regional, and local businesses in prosecuting and defending a variety of commercial, bankruptcy, and employment related disputes. He handles matters involving real estate disputes, contract disputes, loan workouts, discrimination matters, construction disputes and property and personal injury claims.

Joining Seth is Janet Charlton, a former partner at Young Conaway Stargatt & Taylor. Janet has over twenty years of experience representing businesses, financial institutions, and creditors in bankruptcy, workouts, and foreclosure matters. Janet also represents businesses and individuals in contract disputes, collection matters, commercial landlord-tenant disputes and estates and trusts litigation.

“The Delaware office will greatly enhance our ability to serve our banking and commercial clients” said John Winter, Chair of the firm’s Creditor’s Rights section.

Seth Reidenberg

Janet Charlton

“The new office will also handle the general casualty and commercial litigation needs of our clients”, added Chartwell CEO Cliff Goldstein. “The opening of our first office outside Pennsylvania is a milestone for the firm, and we expect to announce expansion into other Middle Atlantic States in the near future”, added Goldstein.

* * * * *

For more information please contact Cliff Goldstein, CEO, The Chartwell Law Offices, LLP (610) 666 4825 cgoldstein@chartwelllaw.com